Lately, there have been certain positive signs as far as re-energising India's policy on PoK is concerned. India's stance on PoK over the years has been persistently charged of being subdued or passive. However, India's policy on PoK got a fresh boost with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Independence Day speech this year, wherein he explicitly mentioned PoK while expressing thanks towards people of the region. Many view the direct reference to PoK during the course of Prime Minister's speech as a breakaway from the past. For decades, India's policy on PoK placed the region within a somewhat narrow construct that was merely confined to raising intermittent objections to Chinese infrastructure building in parts of PoK or came about in response to Pakistan's quest towards political tampering in the region from time to time. Indian Prime Minister's reference to PoK was welcomed not only domestically but across the spectrum including prominent diasporic groups from the PoK region settled mostly in the western countries. Applauding Prime Minister Modi's initiative, an exiled leader from PoK noted that politics in PoK is totally subservient to Pakistan's whims and people there are not only debarred from exercising control over their resources but are also not allowed to participate in any kind of political decision making.

As indicated in several reports included in the current issue, there are growing apprehensions in PoK, especially Gilgit Baltistan, regarding the prospects of the upcoming China Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC). The proposed corridor is slated to cross through Gilgit Baltistan-the only land link between Pakistan and China- before actually entering Pakistan. People in PoK are hugely concerned about their prospective share in the CPEC. Their misgivings have been exacerbated by the continuing political stalemate vis a vis unconstitutional status of Gilgit Baltistan and inability of the Pakistan government to convince the people on whether or not they would benefit from the connectivity corridor in some measure.

“India Concerned Over China-Pakistan Economic Corridor Passing Through Kashmir”

Sputnik International, September 1, 2016

India expressed serious concern over China's ambitious economic corridor with Pakistan and stated that it passed through the Indian Territory. Vikas Swarup, spokesperson for the Indian Ministry of External Affairs stated, “In so far, as the China-Pakistan economic corridor is concerned, our position has been made very clear to both the parties concerned that it passes through Indian sovereign territory under Pakistan's illegal occupation. When we say PoK, it is exactly that is Pakistan Occupied Kashmir. It is part of Indian Territory and India would obviously be concerned about any project happening there with any third party collaboration.” Meanwhile, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Hua Chunying was quoted as saying, “We are well aware of these concerns but as has been stated before, this China-Pakistan Economic Corridor is a platform for long term development.

It targets no third country and we strongly believe that this corridor will work for connectivity, regional peace and development. Our position on the Kashmir issue is consistent. This issue is left-over from history between India and Pakistan. It needs to be resolved between India and Pakistan through consultation.” The China-Pakistan Economic Corridor is a 46 billion dollar infrastructure project that intends to link Xinjiang province, China to Gwadar port, Pakistan, near the Iranian border. China has not disclosed the details of the project, but stated that several road, rail and power projects are planned for the corridor.

“AJK a 'thorn in India's flesh': Indian air chief”

The Express Tribune, September 2, 2016

India's Air Force chief on September 1 called Azad Jammu Kashmir (AJK) 'a thorn in India's flesh' as he rued Indian reluctance to use air power which could have helped it wrest control of the valley. Air Chief Marshal Arup Raha at an aerospace seminar in New Delhi stated that India did not follow a “pragmatic approach” to security needs, as reported. “Our foreign policy was enshrined in the charter of the UN, charter of the Non-Alignment Movement as well as Panchseel doctrine,” he noted while referring to the 1971 Pakistan-India war. “We have been governed by high ideals and we really did not follow a very pragmatic approach, to my mind, to security needs. To that extent, we did ignore the role of the military power to maintain conducive environment.” He suggested that New Delhi was 'reluctant' to use military power, especially the air force, in deterring adversaries. “And when a military solution was in sight, taking moral high ground, I think we went to UN for a peaceful solution to this problem,” Air Chief Marshal Raha stated, adding, “The problem still continues. [AJK] remains a thorn in our flesh today.”

Farooq Sulehria, “Provincialising AJK”

The News, September, 7, 2016

With the election of Masood Khan as the president of Azad Jammu & Kashmir (AJK) on August 16, preceded by the elections for the legislative assembly last month, the façade of yet another 'democratically' elected government is complete. The contempt for democracy in AJK was starkly expressed in the way Masood Khan, a former diplomat from the Rawalakot district, was nominated in violation of every electoral and legal norm of the state. According to AJK press, Masood Khan's name was not in the electoral rolls. He did not hold 'state subject' (a certificate that one is a resident of the State of Jammu and Kashmir; his name was inducted in the electoral rolls with might and main. When the AJK High Court was moved to challenge his qualification, an interim verdict was quickly given in Khan's favour. As AJK president, Sardar Ibrahim moved the court against his dismissal as president by the Zia regime in 1978. It took the honourable court 13 long years to invalidate Ibrahim's dismissal. One must perhaps not blame the court.

"We will try to tell the member states of the UN that how the people in Gilgit Baltistan are deprived of their rights and no Constitutional institutions are being given to them by Pakistan. It is done so that the lands can be grabbed, the identity be reduced to minority or attack be made on their identity," Sering noted. Pointing out that in Gilgit-Baltistan there is mass land grabbing going on and people are being displaced on a large level, Sering stated that in the next two years the density will only increase, adding the issue of land rights and water issues in Gilgit Baltistan and the rights that they have on it will be raised before the UN. He was also of the opinion that the issue of Gilgit-Baltistan gets overshadowed by Pakistan raising the issue of Kashmir.

“Resolve Kashmir issue politically, Attique Ahmed”

Saudi Gazette, September 22, 2016

“It is my belief that the blood of six millions martyred Kashmiris cannot be wasted. No Pakistani government or any political force can remain in Pakistan or even in India who might have to deal with these martyred Kashmiris,” noted Sardar Attique Ahmed Khan, president All Jammu & Kashmir Muslim Conference (AJ&KMC) and ex-prime minister of Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJ&K), while speaking at a press briefing with the members of Pakistan Journalist Forum (PJF) at Mehran restaurant recently. He also stated “Peace talks between Pakistan and India could not be successful if the true Kashmiri leadership is not associated with the delegation or in the talks.” “Kashmir is a political issue. It should be solved politically. A military solution to the issue is dangerous for both countries. It will take the South Asian region to the brink of a nuclear war. The only solution is to resolve the issue with dialogue between Pakistan and India with the association of true Kashmiri leadership. In this regards, UN resolutions are the excellent road map to resolve the conflict,” he added.

“PM Modi's statement on PoK, Gilgit-Baltistan a 'positive step': exiled PoK leader”

Business Standard, September 25, 2016

With Prime Minister Narendra Modi cautioning the people of Pakistan that their leaders were misleading them by talking about Kashmir when they could not even take care of the part of Kashmir under Pakistan's occupation, exiled Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) leader Mumtaz Khan on September 25 stated it is a positive step and statement regarding PoK and Gilgit-Baltistan, though it is late, and hoped it wasn't a tactical statement. Khan stated, "We have a government in PoK, but it has no powers and has no control over their resources, or on political decision making, or on other issues. And, it's not a new issue. I mean, the government we have has always been a kind of an extension or the proxy of the Pakistani political parties. They don't talk about the empowerment of that area, the people, the region, and it is directly controlled by Pakistan, I mean, a few bureaucrats and the Minister for Kashmir Affairs and the military court commander sitting in Murree." "So, there are serious issues with respect to the PoK government and the region, and the political issues, and people have serious grievances against Islamabad. But unfortunately, it has never been taken by any other government internationally, because Indian Kashmir has always been in the limelight and our issues have been always neglected and ignored," he noted.

Tariq Naqash, “PM asked to check 'corruption' in AJK Council”

The Dawn, September 26, 2016

The Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) chapter of Pakistan Tehreek-i-Insaf (PTI) has called upon Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif to take steps to arrest “corruption, favouritism and maladministration” in the AJK Council. Reminding the AJK leaders of the ruling party of their pre-election comments and commitments about the council, the PTI regretted that after coming to power they had eaten their words. “The AJK Council in general and its department of inland revenue in particular have become hotbed of corruption, favouritism and bad governance but the PML-N that had made people falsely believe that it would make AJK a model of good governance has turned a blind eye towards the affairs of the council,” stated Khawaja Farooq Ahmed, senior vice president of PTI in AJK, on September 25. The departments of Inland Revenue, audit and accounts fall under the administrative control of the council. The PTI leader stated owing to its “endemic corruption, abuse of powers and funds for political manoeuvring and disdainful attitude towards the Kashmiris” the council had become a metaphor of hatred among the people of the state. He also stated the council had a history of providing shelter to corrupt elements in the department of Inland Revenue.

Shabbir Mir, “Indian interest in Gilgit”

The Express Tribune, September 28, 2016

As the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) progresses, India has placed more focus on Gilgit-Baltistan in an attempt to exploit the undecided constitutional status haunting its people since decades. This could be the best India could do to a region that according to it is Indian Territory forcibly occupied by Pakistan. One can understand India is deeply upset over the multibillion dollar project which is believed to transform Pakistan's ailing economy, taking it ahead of India in the long run. And Gilgit is considered a soft target to achieve the goal; derail progress on the project. Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his Independence Day speech did mention Gilgit-along with Balochistan and Azad Kashmir and claimed the people from the areas thanked him 'for raising voice against human rights violations in the territory.' Whether the people in Gilgit thanked his government or not, it proved India's heightened interest in the Gilgit region bordering China. Gilgit serves as a gateway to the CPEC as it will pass through about 450 kilometres in Gilgit-Baltistan. Modi's words were not the first thing to make a reference to Gilgit nor were the last. Many others followed the suit to poke their nose into what they call human rights violations in Gilgit-Baltistan.

“US says it recognises Pakistan control over PaK, Gilgit-Baltistan”

Deccan Chronicle, September 1, 2016

The US appeared to be favouring status quo in Jammu and Kashmir and maintaining the Line of Control, but made it clear that it was entirely up to the two countries to determine the pace, scope and character of any discussions on Kashmir. "We acknowledge 'Azad' Jammu and Kashmir, as well as Gilgit Baltistan as territories governed by Pakistan. We acknowledge the 1972 Line of Control as separating the administration of Jammu and Kashmir," a State Department spokesman noted. The spokesperson was responding to a question on the US' position on Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) along with that of Gilgit Baltistan, which has been illegally occupied by Pakistan. Recently, India asked Pakistan to vacate the territory. The spokesperson insisted that there has been no change in America's policy on Kashmir. "As we have stated many times, our policy on Kashmir is this: The pace, scope, and character of any discussions on Kashmir is for the two sides to determine, but we support any and all positive steps India and Pakistan can take to forge closer relations," the official noted.

“Growing Chinese presence in Pakistan raises concerns”

Bihar Prabha, September 17, 2016

The increasing Chinese presence in Pakistan due to the construction of highly publicized China-Pakistan Economic Corridor or CPEC, especially in the illegally occupied territories of Gilgit Baltistan and Pakistan-administered Kashmir has led to growing concern about unemployment and large scale displacement of locals. Despite being the gateway of the multi-billion dollars project, the investment in power projects for Gilgit Baltistan, which is faced with acute power shortage, is next to negligible. Even in Pakistan-administered Kashmir, the total investment in power projects is only $1.8 billion dollars, the least among the other provinces of Pakistan. Apart from disproportionate distribution of funds, presence of Chinese workers has left the locals without jobs, hampering their economic development. The highest number of Chinese Nationals has been reported from northeastern Punjab province at 3,754 with allotment of 6,364 security personnel for their safety. Gwadar Port in Pakistan's least developed province of Balochistan plays a central role in the project. However, it has been allotted a total of 8 projects as compared to 176 in Punjab, 103 in Sindh and 19 in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

“Exploitative Nature of the China Pakistan Economic Corridor Raised in the 33rd Session of the UNHRC”

Finance Yahoo, September 20, 2016

Friends of Gilgit Baltistan, an international organization set up by a few Members of the European Parliament, held a seminar on September 19, 2016 on the side-lines of the 33rd UNHRC session in Geneva, on the exploitative nature of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) in Gilgit Baltistan and Pakistan Administered Kashmir. The speakers included Alberto Cirio, Member of the European Parliament, Paulo Casaca, Executive Director, South Asia Democratic Forum, Junaid Qureshi, prominent Kashmiri human rights leader and Mehran Marri, Baloch Representative to the UN. Paulo Casaca moderated the seminar. During his speech, Paulo Casaca mentioned that though the CPEC has been termed by Pakistani leaders as a game changer time and again, they had glossed over and failed to acknowledge the negative impacts of the project. He opined that though the government harped on the expected economic benefits of the CPEC, little attention was given to the fact that the CPEC would fail to provide economic benefits, including jobs, to the locals and instead only enrich a few. The CPEC, he stated, had become more of a project championed by the Pakistani government and its military to divert attention from all the failures of the civilian government in all other areas including human rights. Later, responding to an intervention, Casaca stated that the most worrying factors with regard to Pakistan was its support to cross border terrorism and there was an immediate need for this to stop as otherwise it would impact the security of not only South Asia but also the world.

“Pakistan's Oppressed Peoples and Occupied Territories Demand Justice and Rule of Law”

UNPO, September 22, 2016

On 20 September 2016, the Unrepresented Nations and Peoples Organization (UNPO) joined forces with the Asian Legal Resource Centre and the Right Livelihood Award Foundation in a side-event to the 33rd Regular Session of the UN Human Rights Council, at the Palais des Nations, in Geneva. Bringing together representatives from Pakistan's oppressed regions and occupied territories the event drew attention to Pakistan's deteriorating human rights record, including the systematic killing of lawyers. Moderated by Mr Baseer Naveed of the Asian Legal Resource Centre, the event heard speeches by representatives of Sindhi, Baloch, Gilgit-Baltistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir. Mr Lakhmal Luhana of the World Sindhi Congress stressed that the CPEC “is much more than an economic corridor... it is a game changer that will lead to the end of these nations [Baloch, Sindhi, Gilgit-Baltistan]” and warned that the implementation of the $46 billion project will bring intensification to all existing conflicts in the region. Mr Mirza Wajahat Hassan, exiled Chairman of the Gilgit-Baltistan Thinkers Forum, noted that “unfortunately very few people know that Gilgit-Baltistan is key to unlocking the Kashmir dispute”. Reminding also that Pakistan's security agencies have intensified their operations to brutally implement the CPEC, Mr Hassan noted that the indigenous peoples of Gilgit-Baltsitan do not have a single representative in the CPEC Committee.

“No joint military exercise with Pakistan in PoK says Russia”

Deccan Herald, September 23, 2016

Russia tonight clarified that it was not holding any anti-terror exercise with Pakistan in "so-called Azad Kashmir" or in any other "sensitive or problematic areas like Gilgit and Baltistan". "The only venue of the exercise is Cherat. All reports alleging the drills taking place at the High Altitude Military School in Rattu are erroneous and mischievous," the Russian Embassy noted in a statement. "Contrary to some reports appearing in a section of the press, the Russia-Pakistan anti-terror exercise is not being held and will not be held in any point of so-called 'Azad Kashmir' or in any other sensitive or problematic areas like Gilgit and Baltistan," it noted. The statement assumes significance as there have been reports from Pakistan that a mechanised infantry unit of the Russian military arrived in Pakistan today to participate in the first-ever joint military drills dubbed 'Friendship-2016'. External Affairs Ministry Spokesperson Vikas Swarup stated that India's sensitivities towards Pakistan-sponsored cross-border terrorism are well-known and same was also conveyed to its strategic partner, Russia.

Minister for Kashmir Affairs and Gilgit-Baltistan Ch Muhammad Barjees Tahir noted, “GB has a great potential for tourism as it has nine major peaks in the world which is main interest for the tourists”. “We are taking steps to improve tourism policy and road infrastructure, especially at GB-Skardu road on a priority basis to facilitate more tourists,” he informed. He also stated that the number of foreign tourists had exceeded from the past due to better law and order situation. “Local festivals played an important role in attracting the foreign tourists as the government and private organisations fully participated in the festivals not only to make them successful but to also promote tourism in the country by making the northern areas a safe haven for the tourists,” he added. Barjees stated the Silk Route, linking the Central Asia to the world, offered unique opportunity to the youth of GB to show their art, culture and traditional heritage to the foreign world in order to open new avenues of trade and cultural exchange. ## “What we got from the CPEC Conference”

Bang-e-Sahar, September 2, 2016

A three day conference on CPEC was held at Gilgit in which many federal ministers and army chief also participated. During the conference, federal minister Ahsan Iqbal stated that GB would be the first region who will get benefit from the CPEC. Iqbal further stated that CPEC will prove a game changer. He also appreciated GB Chief Minister for his participation and also for positively putting GB's case in the conference. Army Chief General Raheel Sharif in his address stated that people of GB are very intelligent and he believes that GB would be as prosperous as Urumqi of China because of the CPEC. He further stated that he wanted to see GB prospering. He also promised to open a branch of NUST University in GB. Besides, Skardu road would be extended, technical institutes would be opened and Gilgit would be made a medical city. He also stated that two divisions of forces are being raised to protect the CPEC. One division would safeguard the corridor from Khunjerab to Rawalpindi and the second one from Rawalpindi to Gwadar. He also stated that the road from Khunjerab to Rawalpindi is safe for the CPEC.

We were expecting the prime minister to attend this conference but he did not turn up even after accepting the invitation. One thing is obvious that the federal government is not clear and honest regarding the share of GB in CPEC. Ahsan Iqbal's reference on GB was like a political statement. Mushahid Hassan stated that both GB and Gwadar are two cornerstones of CPEC. There is nothing new in these statements. People were waiting that Ahsan Iqbal may talk about the two Economic Zones, Dry Port or other projects, roads, small dams that were earlier promised to be constructed in GB. Unfortunately there was nothing of this sorts. On the contrary, Raheel Sharif made more announcements for the region than what Ahsan Iqbal said. Though it sounds good that GB would be made as prosperous as Urumqi. GB is now more peaceful than other parts of the country. Sectarianism has been almost controlled in GB. If there is peace, prosperity is possible. We should care more about peace and stability than the CPEC.

“People want Constitutional Identity not benefits from CPEC: Bibi Saleema”

Bang-e-Sahar, September 3, 2016

The three day conference on CPEC in Gilgit was nothing but to mislead people. The main reason behind this conference was to take input from people but it seems it was meant to thrust their agenda on the people of region. During the conference, neither suggestions were taken from representatives of the various political parties nor were opposition members taken into confidence. MWM member Bibi Saleema stated that during the three day conference nothing was said regarding the share of GB in this mega project i.e. the CPEC. She further noted that no one talked about the constitutional identity of GB. People of GB want constitutional identity rather than economic benefits of CPEC. People of region have been denied their identity over last seventy years. Statements from various federal ministers have upset the people of GB. During the conference, questions were allowed to be asked but there were no concrete and clear answers to them.

“Right now don't want to become a Chief Minister, Mir Saleem”

Baad-e-Shimal, September 18, 2016

Newly elected member from Hunza, Mir Saleem

Khan stated that despite many problems he won election because of full support from Prime Minister. He did not comment on how much provincial government played a role in his win. He noted that right now he is not focusing on becoming a chief minister, rather he wants to solve the issues with help of centre. He further stated that people of GB want change therefore it is necessary to reform the system. According to Saleem, the economic wheel in GB seems to have got stuck and it needs to get a push so that economic standards of people change. On the CPEC, he stated instead of talking on various forums all political parties and groups should get united and work together otherwise if we get divided we will get nothing.

Our two members in National Assembly and Senate are invited to clap there. They cannot even say a one word there. We want administrative authority, we also want financial authority. We want to become a fifth province so that our desire since last 70 years is fulfilled. We gave many sacrifices for Pakistan and our children are patriotic but unfortunately we have been stitched with Kashmir issue.
