‘Opposition parties hatching conspiracies to destabilize Pakistan:’ AJK PM

Dawn, March 08, 2022

The Prime Minister (PM) of “Azad Jammu and Kashmir” (AJK), Sardar Abdul Qayyum Niazi said that at a time when Pakistan was facing “multiple challenges and threats”, opposition parties were “remorselessly engaged in hatching conspiracies to destabilise the country.” He further regretted that the “opposition parties” appear to be hell-bent upon “damaging vital national interests” by fomenting political instability in the country at a time when the situation at home as well as in our “neighbourhood strictly warrants greater national unity in our ranks and file.” He further added that PM Khan is the “ambassador of Kashmiris and Kashmir issue would see settlement under his leadership”. He emphasized that he is tirelessly working on the agenda spelt out by PM Imran Khan and the agenda includes accountability of institutions, eradication of corruption from the state and highlighting the “the longstanding Kashmir issue” at the international level. He added that a slew of development schemes and projects had already been initiated by his government and more would be initiated after the next budget. He stressed that PM Khan is shielding the country against “internal and external conspiracies” on the one hand and addressing the system on the other hand and he will succeed in establishing a Madina-like state in Pakistan.

‘GB is part of Kashmir, support GB on constitutional rights:’ JKPP President

Daily Parliament Times, March 09, 2022

The president of Jammu Kashmir People’s Party (JKPP) and Member of Legislative Assembly (MLA), “Azad Jammu and Kashmir” (AJK), Sardar Hassan Ibrahim Khan said that the state of Jammu and Kashmir is an “indivisible unit” and the final decision on the future of the state rests solely with the “people of Kashmir.” He stressed that Gilgit-Baltistan (GB) is “part of Kashmir” and if an attempt is made to make GB a province, we will be left with no option but a “strong resistance.” He further noted that the Karachi agreement is the historical document that proves GB as part of the state of Jammu and Kashmir.

He added that the people of “Azad Kashmir” have strong concern over the resolution being tabled in the senate regarding GB and therefore we expect that sane forces of Pakistan would play their role in this regard. He stressed that the attempts by the “government of Pakistan to tamper with the status of GB” would justify the Indian move taken on August 05, 2019, while the Kashmiris have the right to decide their future through a plebiscite following the resolutions of the United Nation

Security Council (UNSC). He added that changing the status of GB at this critical juncture is not only a blow to the Kashmiris' movement but is also against Pakistan's national interests. The government of Pakistan should take all parties including Kashmiris into confidence in this regard and we support GB to get full constitutional rights. He said that a complete governmental setup should be granted to GB like "Azad Kashmir" but making it a province would be a blow to Pakistan's legitimate and principled position on Kashmir and therefore we outrightly reject any such move that could damage the international nature of the Kashmir conflict.

elections and the party is focusing on improving the health, infrastructure and communication system of the “Azad Kashmir” as per the vision of the PM of Pakistan. It has been noted that a forward bloc comprising members not happy with Sardar Abdul Qayyum Khan Niazi’s government might be formed. The forward bloc represented by Pakistan People’s Party (PPP) and Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) has decided to move ahead unconditionally for the no-confidence motion. It is expected that senior ministry will be given to the PPP while the PML-N will get a speakership. While on the one hand, PPP “Azad Kashmir” president Chaudhry Yasin and former ‘AJK’ president Haji Muhammad Yaqoob are trying to become PM and on the other hand, the leaders of the Jat family have increased pressure on the president of ‘AJK’ Sultan Choudhury that in case of no confidence, Choudhary Yasin should be appointed PM. It has also been said that ‘AJK’ PM Sardar Abdul Qayyum Niazi has come to know about the “Azad Kashmir”, Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leader who met Asif Ali Zardari. that irrespective of circumstances, he would not resign and in case of a no-confidence motion, the assembly will be dissolved.

'International community must take notice of India's defective missile programme:' PTI 'AJK' President

Daily Parliament Times, March 13, 2022

The president of Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) "Azad Jammu and Kashmir" (AJK), Sardar Tanveer Ilyas said that the fall of Indian missile into Pakistani territory was proof that "India was an irresponsible country" and its "nuclear and missile technology program was only flawed." He said that the government of Pakistan had shown great patience and perseverance in the face of Indian missiles falling in Mian Channu. He said that the expertise shown by the Pakistan Army on the Mian Channu missile was exemplary as the missile was spotted on Pakistani radar as soon as it entered Pakistani territory and was pursued. He stated that in response to an Indian missile, "dozens of missiles could have been fired on Indian soil" but Pakistani forces demonstrated that they were peace-loving. He further said that the international community should take notice of India's "irresponsible behaviour" and its "defective missile programme" and ban it so that no such incident could happen in future. He added that the Pakistani forces were not only vigilant but also ready to make any sacrifice for the defence of the country and stressed that Pakistan's defence program is equipped with the world's most advanced and state-of-the-art technology. A glimpse of this has been seen by the "Indian forces and the Indian government" on February 27, 2019."

‘Transition Plan: 500 billion rupees for the development of Gilgit-Baltistan proposed’

Pamir Times, March 09, 2022

Pakistan’s federal government has been asked to allocate 500 billion development funds for the next 10 years, under a proposed “transition plan” focused on Gilgit-Baltistan (GB). It has been said that 380 billion of the 500 billion financial proposals, if approved, will be spent on the “development of small and medium-sized hydropower projects/dams.” It has been said that under the transition plan, the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) government in GB will be allowed to complete its “five-year term”, by amending article 232-A of Pakistan’s constitution, to honour “the mandate of the people.” The plan has been developed by a team of experts under the guidance of the political leadership of GB led by the Chief Minister (CM) of GB. It has been noted that initially, the committee had names of 9 public representatives and 9 bureaucrats, excluding members of opposition parties, however, after many hues and cries, the committee was expanded and 4 members from opposition parties were also added. The “transition plan”, is a part of the efforts aimed at making GB a “provisional province” of Pakistan, through amendments in the constitution of Pakistan. The Prime Minister (PM) Imran Khan had promised the previous year that the federation of Pakistan wants to give a “provisional province” status to GB to address political grievances and the plan also envisages numerous major “administrative and constitutional” reforms in GB to empower the regional government.

The transition plan has received mixed reactions with some calling it a “game-changer” for the region, while others calling it another “futile attempt.” The “progressive and nationalist” forces have “rejected the provisional province status”, demanding internal autonomy with an independent constituent assembly. They believe that interim reforms cannot address the constitutional question of GB and that the parliament of Pakistan, where GB is not represented, cannot decide the future of GB. However, major political parties, including the ruling PTI, as well as Pakistan People Party (PPP), have welcomed the provisional province status, calling it the most feasible option. While the Pakistan Muslim League (PML-N), has said that the PTI government is not “serious in implementing” constitutional reforms. They have also accused the incumbent government of not “consulting all stakeholders.”
